Writing A Book

I have been writing a book for a couple of years. I appreciate the encouragement to write and certainly the prayers. Somedays writing flows. Other days, I am distracted. And still others, just a sentence or paragraph when tired from dialysis. Such is the nature of writing in this season of life.

Oh, BTW-the working title is TRUSTING GOD with the LIFE I Have: Not the One I Want (A Memoir of Faith). Honestly, if nothing else it is for me, my family and my grandchildren.

It is reflections on my faith from childhood, the last couple of years of my life changing health journey. It is not what I wanted, but I have learned so much about my faith, God, myself and what really matters.

Here are some of the chapters I am working on...
A Story for God's Glory
Dying but Not Knowing It

The Winds of Childhood
Joy, Sorrow, Family, Faith

Life is Not a Straight-Line
Choosing Trust Over Coincidence

Accepting Mystery
The Life You Have, Not the One You Want

When God Feels Absent
Silence as Waiting and Hope

Suffering as Cleansing
No Pain is Wasted

Gratitude is a Choice
Getting to Peace & Hope Beyond Now
It is Not Wishful Thinking

Death: The Last Enemy
"If Jesus is the Son of God, then..."

Epilogue: For Church Leaders
Trusting God with the Church You Have Not the One You Want

Thanks for the prayers—focus, clarity and fingers that keep on writing.
