Snow Day

I trust you are warm and safe this super brr' morning! 13 degrees at our house and 2 1/2 inches of snow. As I stepped outside I immediately thought of people who have lost power, the homeless and the elderly who live alone. Check on your elderly neighbors, a friend and those in the community of faith who are living alone.

I also smile thinking about infants and toddlers who have seen their first snow and children laughing and playing in the snow. It is good that our normal routine is disturbed to remind us of our God of all seasons.

Gathering online in worship and virtual fellowship is a blessing on days like this.

The snow blanketed ground calls to remembrance the image of forgiveness by Isaiah—

“...though your sins are like scarlet, they shall be like snow; though they are like red crimson, they shall become like wool” (Isaiah 1.18).

And we all know where wool comes from, don't we?

And Jesus, “the lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world” (John 1.29).

P.S. And now, the sun is shining!
