Why Campus Ministry?

Sunday morning, April 30, as Tarleton State University gets ready to end the Spring Semester, our church will focus on our “Texans for Christ” Campus Ministry. We will congratulate the graduates, celebrate some of the great accomplishments of this year, and share some plans for the future. But you might have a simple, yet very relevant question, “Why does our church have a Campus Ministry?” That is a great question, and I am going to hold myself to a dozen simple answers:

1. It is in obedience to the Great Commission (Mat. 28:18-20)
2. It is in keeping with our Church Family Mission to be “Rooted, Growing and Reaching.”
3. It has changed lives for the better, and we have several members who can testify to this, either as former T4C members, or from other campus ministries.
4. It brings the saving message of God’s love at one of the most critical decision-making stages of life.
5. It builds a vital support system during this time of life.
6. It shares vital emotional and spiritual support through the discipline of discipleship.
7. It builds a foundation for future church leadership.
8. It reaches out to struggling believers, nonbelievers, and the unchurched.
9. It is a church home away from home for students who are wanting to be engaged in a church family.
10. It reaches out to international students with a cross-cultural message of friendship, which they may personally take to heart and go back home to share it with others.
11. It gives Christian faith a forum in educational circles where it is often seen as unworthy of consideration.
12. It gives hope during crisis, tragedy, and difficulty when the answers of the world have seemed to fail and brought greater despair.

I am proud to work with Taylor and Whitney Holt, our Campus Ministers, in a church that wants to be a vital part of the campus life at Tarleton State University.
